"WANDERER"

The photo on the cover of the whaleship "Wanderer" was taken in 1924. On August 25th, the "Wanderer" had sailed from New Bedford under the command of Captain Antone T. Edwards who had commanded her for 10 years. He had a small crew of 15. Some of these men were working passage to Brava where the Captain planned to pick up a crew for whaling.

A light wind prevented the ship from going to sea and she was anchored in Buzzards Bay and the Captain returned to port leaving the ship under the charge of his first mate, Joseph A. Gomes. That night a gale arose and whipped into a full scale hurricane by noon of the next day.

The anchor chains parted. A second anchor was dropped but dragged. The steering gear was smashed and the ship, helpless, was driven upon the rocks of Cuttyhunk. The entire crew was saved but the vessel was a total loss.

You can see the man in the rigging salvaging line. The boat alongside is full of cordage.

A second storm which came on September 30th entirely destroyed the vessel.

This was the last whaling voyage out of New Bedford, Mass. The "Wanderer" was built at the J. H. Holmes shipyard at Mattapoisett and launched on April 23, 1878.

This rare photo was given to us for publication by Miss Alice Oliver of Main St., Mattapoisett

Our Blue Spaceship

A NEW LOOK AT EARTH

Most of us will say goodbye to the decade of the 1960's with no regret. The past ten years have spawned a host of deplorable practices. Drug taking is commonplace among youth. Crime flourishes. A college professor writes in gutter language for a student publication at SEMU. Riots and demonstrations are common practice featuring sniping at police and fire fighters. Patriotism is downgraded. Overcrowding, sloth and lack of pride and respect for others turn neighborhoods into slums. Pollution has reached such proportions as to poison the very atmosphere and the water that supports life on earth.

The thrilling moment when the United States stood on the moon with their astronauts showed us our earth in a way that we have never seen it before. This shining, blue and white globe is beautiful and unique. The barren waste of the moon shows the contrast in terms that are resounding.

We are passengers on a spaceship of marvelous wonders but it is a closed system. Should we destroy this life support system, we would snuff out one of the truly unique planets of the universe along with mankind.

How long can we stand the luxury of unrestrained pollution, unrestrained violence and crime? The pendulum has swung too far in the destruction and careless disregard of the generations of the future. If the world is to exist and maintain life, then people must realize that the limit is being reached in the number of people that earth's closed life support system can maintain.

Overpopulation is the one overpowering problem of the 1970's and beyond. It breeds crime, war and the pollution which can destroy the earth.

Will the leaders of the world face that fact? Will they do it in time?

The 1970's are the turning point for all of us. In the decade ahead, we will take the steps to save the quality of life as opposed to increasing the quantity of life.

Life is good. We savor the beauty of our earth. In the new decade, we will move to preserve it for others.

Dorr Plays in Classic

DONALD DORR IN BLUE-GRAY GAME

It was a bitter disappointment for most football fans in this area that the annual Blue-Gray game that has always been televised was not put on the air this year, particularly since Donald Dorr of Mattapoisett had a large role in the game. Don, now playing defense for Syracuse, had the honor of being chosen for this post season tilt and was in on many of the key defensive plays.

The game was a defensive showcase featuring 10 interceptions - each team making 5. The battle ended in a 6 to 6 tie. The Gray outgained the Blue on the ground 159 yards to 85. In the passing game the North had the edge. Total offense - North 268 to the South's 258.

Donald Dorr was quarterback for the

Music Students Honored

FORAM AWARDS PRESENTED

This year's recipients of FORAM's most outstanding music students' awards were honored during the Old Rochester Regional Christmas concert.

Class of '69 award winners were Christine Glaeser of Marion, selected as the most outstanding vocal music student, and George Fisher of Mattapoisett, selected as the most outstanding instrumental music student. Special plaques were presented to Miss Glaeser and Mr. Fisher by FORAM president, Mr. Charles B. Dunn, before a large and enthusiastic audience, just prior to the concert intermission.

In addition to the public presentation of the prizes, the award winners will be further recognized by having their names engraved on FORAM's permanent plaque, displayed in the auditorium lobby. This plaque features a continuing listing of annual Most Outstanding Music Students Awards' recipients.

PSAT Scores Given

RESULTS OF TESTS

The results of the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) administered by the College Entrance Examination Board as a part of the college testing program have been given to the students together with a booklet that will help both students and their parents to evaluate the results. Additionally, a counselor will have an opportunity to speak with each student about his scores. Parents are encouraged to read the booklet carefully. Should there be any questions, parents may call a guidance counselor at the high school.

The average verbal score for all Junior boys across the country is 35; for girls 36. Verbal scores among all Juniors tested at Old Rochester this fall ranged from 26 to 69 with an average of 45. The National average math score for all Junior boys is 39; for girls 36. The average of the 56 students of both sexes who took part in the recent testing at Old Rochester was 43.

The distribution of scores (without names) earned by students in the fall administration of the PSAT has been published to the students so that they may learn where their own scores lie compared to those of their classmates.

The failure of some students each year to participate in the voluntary college testing program on a timely basis has created serious difficulties for a number of students from time to time. In order to help parents understand the scope, purpose and timing of the voluntary college testing program, Old Rochester Regional High School plans to publish information not only about the program but about individual tests so that parents as well as students may know about important test dates.

ROCKET PROPULSION IN SPACE STILL SEEMS ILLOGICAL TO MANY PEOPLE. AFTER ALL, SPACE IS A VACUUM--WITH NO AIR FOR THE ROCKET'S EXHAUST TO PUSH BACKWARD AGAINST.
NO AIR IS NECESSARY. WHEN THE ROCKET'S FUEL BURNS, THE HOT GAS WITHIN THE TANK DOESN'T JUST EXPAND BACKWARD WITH GREAT FORCE. IT ALSO EXPANDS FORWARD-- WITH EQUAL FORCE.
THE EXHAUST NOZZLES LET THE BACKWARD FORCE DISSIPATE, CREATING AN IMBALANCE--AND PERMITTING THE FORWARD FORCE TO PROPEL THE ROCKET AHEAD.
A VACUUM OUTSIDE PERMITS AN EVEN GREATER IMBALANCE THAN AIR DOES AND THUS ACTUALLY ADDS TO A ROCKET'S POWER, ACCORDING TO THE GRAPHITE SPECIALISTS AT AIRCO SPEER-- A LEADING SUPPLIER OF AEROSPACE ROCKET EXHAUST NOZZLES.

Greetings from England

Best wishes for a Happy New Year to all our friends in Mattapoisett. We hope you all had a Merry Christmas.

We are enjoying our English home and the surrounding countryside. We do miss the view of the water but we have trees and the new fascination of watching the birds at our feeder by the window. The robin, national bird in England, is only 4 1/2 inches long and is a friendly bird that will come to the sill to eat and then stand there looking in at us. Wild bird seed and peanuts come in pound packages and costs 2/6 or 30 cents.

We have done some sightseeing in London and in nearby towns. We are specially enjoying the theatre as it is possible to get the tickets the day you want to go to see the show.

In mid-October we drove to Southampton to see the Sea and were reminded of "Home", especially when we saw the "United States" tied up at one of the quays. We drove along the coast in Bournemouth and Poole, then turned north and drove thru New Forest where semi-wild ponies roam freely and have priority on the roads.

We went on to Bruton, Somerset where I had learned my Father's people lived before emigrating to America. Shortly after entering the village of Bruton we came upon the Church of St. Mary the Virgin and decided that was a good place to start looking about in the cemetery surrounding the church. We walked about but couldn't find a stone with the name 'Ames' on it. Finally we went inside the church where there are many brass plaques on the walls and floor. Earl and I took off in different directions reading inscriptions and looking about. I had started around to my left after entering so was almost back where I started when I found that the stained glass window to the right of the entry was a memorial to John and William Ames who emigrated to America in 1635 and 1638. This window was installed by Frederick Lothrop Ames of Easton, Mass. in 1888. He was part of the 'Ames shovel' branch who are friends of some of our friends in Mattapoisett. According to "Mattapoisett and Old Rochester" Ames was a prominent name in the early days of the church and town.

We will be sending along more articles on our impressions of living in a foreign country. And do keep those letters coming, the postman rides his bike over his route three times a day, so he could easily come up to our door with your letter.

NEW APPROACH TO TRAFFIC

Neither snow nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night will stay the commuter from swift arrival at his place of work. Paraphrasing the motto of the Post Office, this sentence sums up the vastly improved prospects for daily transportation that may give traffic tie-ups the air.

For small urban strips and airports will soon be able to break the congestion barrier through the use of light weight, inexpensive, miniature Microwave (Instrument Landing System) developed for around-the-clock, low-visibility operation. The name of the device is Talar®. It was developed by The Singer Company, the widely diversified firm internationally known as a leading sewing machine manufacturer.

To enable an aircraft to use Talar for instrument approaches, it needs only to be equipped with two small electronic boxes that have a combined weight of less than 10 pounds.

While not radar in the conventional sense, the new system does use many radar techniques. Briefly, it is specially designed to supply information on aircraft position to its pilot directly, rather than to an operator on the ground. The present design includes a number of changes suggested during flight tests by the Air Force. The system is presently being delivered to the U.S. Air Force under contract.

A ground transmitter, which weights 57 pounds excluding power supply, is fully transistorized except for the transmitter tube. The airborne unit, is fully solid-state in construction. This has paid off in remarkable reliability. The transmitter, it has been demonstrated, can be put into operation in less than five minutes.

Because the alignment of the transmitter is important, Talar is equipped with a built-in telescope with crosshairs to permit an accurate visual check of runway alignment.

Pilots, however, will have no difficulty getting on and staying on the beam. And commuters, like the postman, will neither be deterred nor detoured from the swift completion of their appointed rounds Instrument approaches by aircraft were conducted using the TALAR landing approach system developed by the Singer Company. The purpose of the flight was to demonstrate that aircraft and ground support equipment are available to outfit small urban air strips for around the clock, low visability operations to cope with inter-city and intra-city transportation problems.

Bandstand Discussed

BAND COMMITTEE MEETS

The Mattapoisett Band Committee held a meeting at the Town Hall with the following members present: Paul H. Alves, Jr., chairman; Mrs. Louis Corey, Jr., Mr. George King, Mr. Bruce E. Rocha, Mr. Archibald Lammey and Mrs. Alden S. Kinney. Also present was special guest, Mr. Robert Broomhead, who spoke of experiences involved in the construction of the present Marion bandstand. Mr. Broomhead, a resident of that town who was also a member of the former building committee, answered numerous questions concerning the type construction and building methods employed.

Pursuant with the intention of the committee to make an extensive study of area bandstands, Mr. Rocha was appointed to visit the town bandstand in Chatham, to be followed up with a report at the next meeting.

An Enriched Boston

MASSACHUSETTS HERITAGE

The people of Massachusetts should be proud of the great architectural landmarks of their capital. Boston, one of the country's oldest municipalities, has become a dynamic urban center by making great strides to revitalize, restore and preserve historic architecture that is part of our national heritage.

Walking through the City, one sees examples of the Federalist period like the State House and Faneuil Hall, designed by Charles Bullfinch; the many old quaint residences on Boston's famed Beacon Hill; the stately mansions along Commonwealth Avenue; and, of course, Henry Richardson's Trinity Church at Copley Square.

Boston's former seat of government, Old City Hall, is a fine example of the country's Romantic Victorian era. The Faneuil Hall Markets, created by the energetic Mayor Josiah Quincy in 1826, combine Greek Revival architecture with exciting outdoor spaces.

These buildings, which enrich the whole city, still stand today due to the sensitivity of Boston's civic and governmental agencies and citizens aware of this unique architectural past. Boston's Mayor, the Redevelopment Authority and its Director, are to be commended for their efforts to preserve two of these most famous landmarks, Boston's Old City Hall -- now being rejuvenated for modern office space -- and the Faneuil Hall Markets which will soon resume their former role as a vital part of urban life in Boston.

HOW TO DRIVE AND SURVIVE IN WINTER

Today, thousands of motorists keep a heavy load in the trunk for better traction, rub their windshields with lemon or onion for better vision, watch the braking lights on the car ahead as a stopping cue, and are wholly unaware that each of these actions can lead to death on winter highways.

If the load in your trunk is too heavy the front end will be higher than usual. The danger of this comes at night when your low beam headlights will look high to drivers coming the other way. Some of them may try to blind you to get even.

As for rubbing lemon or onion on the windshield to prevent icing, the National Safety Council says this: "Save the groceries for better use...they only make a mess on the glass. So do glycerin and beeswax. Commercial spray de-icers work well„ but be sure to wipe your windshield dry after using them or hard-to-remove streaks may remain."

Can it really be a hazard to watch the braking lights on the car ahead to know when you should brake? Oddly, yes. There are more and more sports cars on the road, and many of the drivers enjoy slowing down by "gearing down" -- switching to a lower gear -- instead of using the brakes. Because of this, it's better to key your moves to the distance between cars, rather than just to brake lights.

Good brakes are a must, but if one of them is better than the others, you may be in for trouble. If brakes aren't balanced -- not just good -- the "best" one may throw you into a skid.

Seeing as much as possible while driving would seem to be a good idea, but seeing too much -- such as the sunlight reflected into your eyes by a patch of mirror-smooth ice -- can literally blind you for several seconds, just long enough to travel several hundred feet. This is why it pays to have not just sunglasses, but glasses with polarized lenses. Cool-Ray Polaroid Sunglasses specialize in filtering out this type of glare while letting useful light reach your eyes so that, though the lenses are tinted, you actually see more instead of less.

Almost everyone knows that the best-traveled roads are the safest in winter, but in many areas everyone who "knows" this is wrong. At intersections especially, heavy traffic -- starting and stopping -- has a polishing effect on snow and ice.

Result: it may take you twice the distance to stop at an intersection as it takes on an unplowed road.

Some driving "do's and don'ts" may DO you some good if you DON'T forget them.

DO remember to wipe the snow off your headlights every time you wipe it off the windshield.

DON'T let some air out of your tires in the hope of getting better traction. This doesn't work, says the National Safety Council, and it only makes your tires wear out sooner.

DO switch on your headlights when the sky gets very overcast.

DO keep safe glasses, such as the Polaroid kind, handy in the glove compartment. Wear them during the day but DON'T wear them after the sun goes down.

DON'T slow down by gearing down without flashing your brake lights (not everyone has read this article).

Attention Bike Owners

REGISTRATION PLATES FOR BICYCLES

The Mattapoisett Police Department has a new supply of bicycle registration plates, which can be obtained from the desk operator at the police station.

Massachusetts Law requires that all bicycles used on public property must be registered under Chapter 85, Section 11A.

Massachusetts Law also requires under Section 11B of Chapter 85 that when a bicycle is operated on public property that the following rules must be obeyed:

1) Every bicycle shall be equipped with an adequate brake which will stop the bicycle quickly and evenly.

2) Every bicycle shall be equipped with a suitable bell, horn or other device capable of giving a signal audible for at least one hundred feet.

3) No bicycle shall be equipped with a siren or whistle.

4) If a bicycle is operated one half an hour after sunset until one half an hour before sunrise the bicycle should be equipped with the following:

A) One white light on the front that can be seen for not less than five hundred feet in the direction toward which the bicycle is proceeding or facing.

B) One red reflector on the rear that will be visible for not less than three hundred feet to the rear when the upper beams of the headlamps of a motor vehicle strike it.

C) Shall display on the lower portion of the rear fender and on the upper portion of both sides of the front fork, on an area of about five square inches in each case, a marking of white or reflectorized paint or reflectorized tape.

5) No operator of a bicycle shall permit it to be drawn by any other moving vehicle.

6) Two or more bicycles shall always ride in a single file.

Y.W.C.A. Events

Junior and senior life saving classes start January 8. Registrations should be made now by interested girls and women who hold an American Red Cross swimmers certificate, or are able to demonstrate the equivalent ability. Qualified swimmers holding life saving certification are frequently in demand by many organizations as pool guards and camp water front directors.

Junior class will meet from 6 to 7 P.M. and senior class from 7 to 8. Call the YWCA for further details.

Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins, Red Cross Senior Volunteer, and Mrs. Eleanor Perrier, Red Cross driver and YWCA Senior Volunteer, will accompany Junior Volunteers to the bi-monthly ward party at Newport Naval Hospital January 7.

Mrs. Grace Young, USO director, states that three more Junior Volunteers are needed to fill the quota for the evening. Meeting time at the Red Cross Chapter House is 6:00 P.M., and the party sponsored by the local Red Cross Chapter is from 7:30 to 8:30 P.M. Transportation will be provided by the Red Cross. YWCA participation is through the Red Cross and the USO area office in Providence.

For further details regarding membership in the YWCA USO program that brings cheer to patients in the Newport Naval Hospital, including many Viet Nam returnees, call the YWCA, Mrs. Young.

Entertainers are needed also for these ward parties. Interested persons including vocal guitarists, singers, instrumentalists and performers are requested to inquire at the YWCA regarding auditions

Junior Volunteers will hear Miss Edna Carlson, executive director of the New Bedford Child and Family Service, speak at the Parent Education Program on Drug Misuse, January 7. This commitment for Volunteers will be considered the monthly training meeting for January.

There is no USO dance scheduled during the holiday season. The first dance in 1970 will be on January 11 at Otis Air Force Base. For further details on activities call the YWCA.

During this week plunges and splashes may be arranged in the pool. One-half hour plunges are offered for both members and non-members from 10:30 A.M. to 2:30 P.M. tomorrow and on January 3. Required medical releases must be called for at the main desk.

---

Women of all ages, college students or homemakers, interested in learning synchronized swimming, may contact Mrs. Whalen, the pool director, 999-6201. The class will be given in the morning starting in January.

---

Mrs. Jean Bugg will speak at the weekly luncheon, Wednesday, January 7, on the French techniques of flower beading, and demonstrate the methods used. Starting in February a class will be offered in flower beading.

Members of the Junior and Senior Ski Clubs are reminded that registration continues for the first ski weekend, scheduled for January 16-18 at East Madison, New Hampshire, adjoining the King Pine Ski area.

P. Breton Alternate Nominee

KEITH ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENTS

Congressman Hastings Keith recently announced his appointments to the United States Air Force, Military and Naval Academies, and his nominees to the United States Merchant Marine Academy.

Peter Leigh Breton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Real Breton of West Hills, Mattapoisett, was named 4th alternate of the Military Academy and also second alternate to the Naval Academy.

Congressman Keith's appointments were the result of recommendations made by his special Academies Selection Committee under the chairmanship of Commander Richard J. Harkins USNR (Ret.) of South Dartmouth. Other members of the committee are John T. Babbitt of Westport, John Dugan of South Dartmouth, Donald M. Dwyer of South Dartmouth, Dr. Joseph C. Kunces, superintendent, Old Rochester Regional School District, of Marion, Colonel William R. Marion of West Harwich, E. Carleton Nickerson, president, Cape Cod Community College, of Hyannis, Police Chief Joseph B. O'Kane of Weymouth, Attorney Jack Rosenberg of New Bedford, Captain Sherman Reed of Hyannisport, Commander Edward L. Stewart of Scituate, Commander Roy Stratton of North Falmouth, Rear Admiral John Thompson of South Yarmouth and Sheriff Donald P. Tulloch of Barnstable.

Final selections were made on the basis of the candidate's scores on the competitive Civil Service examination, College Boards, school transcript and personal interview.

The Congressman praised the Academy Selection Committee for the work done and agreed with them that, "The young men interviewed were of very high caliber. Their parents and their communities can be justly proud of them."

Mr. Keith added: "I am sure that the young men who go to the academies will continue their records of excellence and serve their country well."

The Congressman noted, too, that the Committee often had a very difficult time in choosing a principal nominee from among the highly qualified applicants. Keith pointed out that in the past qualified alternates often won appointments to the Academies when vacancies occurred, or when Principal appointments declined their nominations.
